MORE DELAY TODAY

A Big Washout on the I. C. Ties up Traffic.

The Roads Are More Passable Today But Are Still in a Bad Condition.

THE DAMAGE GROWS

The most serious washout on the Illinois Central is between Hickory and Boon stations, on the Fulton district of the road, and this morning three trains, two fast cannonball passengers and one accommodation passenger were tied up at Hoaz and Mayfield until the washout can be repaired.

The washout was caused by the rempage on which Mayfield creek has gone. This creek is not subject to swift rising, as are other creeks, and it required some little time for the great volume of water to swell the stream to such a size that the railroad tracks were washed out. The washout happened last night early and the fast train coming from Memphis and due into Paducah at 1:30 was reported six hours late at the outlet. The dispatchers kept reporting it later until this morning at day break the train was reported eight hours late. At 8 o'clock it was reported ten hours late and the morning accommodation train, due into Paducah at 7:45 is behind it and did not arrive until half an hour later than the fast passenger. The No. 103, from Louisville to Memphis, due into Paducah at 3:30 was tied up at Hoaz Station for many hours, being unable to get over the washout until the same had been repaired. All freight trains were likewise delayed and matters in railroad circles came to a standstill from early last night until this morning late.

Last night a telegram for an emergency crew was received here from the train dispatchers' office in Princeton. The Big Clifty bridge, a bridge about 62 miles this side of Louisville, was reported about to wash away and a crew was sent out from Paducah on a special train with several car loads of clinders to strengthen and ballast the bridge. For a time it looked as if the bridge would go any way but at last reports it was still sound but the men were still working heroically to save it.

The washouts below Fulton, between Fulton and Memphis, and those between Memphis and the southern terminals, caused the regular No. 102, the fast Memphis and Louisville passenger train due into Paducah at 11:30 yesterday to be annulled when it reached Memphis.

The officials of the south end started a train out of Fulton as 102 to accommodate the trade between that city and Louisville. It was nearly one hour late.

On the Louisville division there were no real washouts but in many places the water stood so high over the tracks that it was impossible to send a train through it. This trouble was experienced the greatest near Claxton and it was some time before the trains could pass. No. 121, the Louisville and Fulton accommodation train due into Paducah at 3:45 was several hours late and did not arrive until 9 o'clock last night. The fast south bound passenger train got in 15 minutes later. It was due at 2:00.

and was only two hours late.

On the south end the most serious trouble was found in the caving in of the 75 foot cut at Ripley. This fell in and covered the track for many feet. A large force of workmen are working on it now to clear away the dirt and put the track in order again.

Superintendent A. Philbrick, of the Louisville division of the I. C., arrived last night from Louisville to look after his division. He has suffered comparatively little on his division. Trainmaster T. A. Banks is also in the city today looking after the trains. His wife accompanied him here.

The street cars here have been greatly handicapped by the heavy rainfall and this morning the mud and debris on the tracks caused several derailments. Two cars on the Rowlandtown line were derailed and for a time the service to the depot was badly damaged. The car repairs from the car shed were sent out to replace the cars on the tracks. The mud in many places has been washed over the tracks until they are completely covered.

A telephone message from Woodville this morning reported the damage in that vicinity not very heavy. The roads seem to have been damaged little by the rains except from the washing away of several crossings and small bridges. The creeks were an high yesterday that the mail carriers were unable to bring any mail, and up until this morning no mail had been received at Woodville.

At Hazlewood the water was reported higher than records have heretofore shown. Humphreys creek went wild and many logs and pieces of timber that had been cut were washed away. The water backed over fields and completely submerged them.

Hicksville reports much damage. One iron bridge near that was reported badly damaged but still sound enough to be used. The roads are reported in pretty good condition but many crossings and small bridges have been washed away.

Later reports from Hoaz station show that there are three miles of track completely submerged and the railroad men can not even transfer passengers from one train to another. The No. 104 and 103 and 122 were still at last reports tied up at Mayfield and Hoaz in a deadlock, being unable to get past. The Louisville division officials are here and have arranged to run a train out of Paducah as No. 103 which will be unable to get past the Ripley cave in.

The little damage done the I. C. telegraph wires has been repaired and the road will lose little from this source. There were a few business wires down yesterday but the linemen repaired the breaks immediately and the company operators were little handicapped by the breaks.

There have been few mails today, and the postoffice forces are enjoying something of a vacation. There have been few in, in fact, since Saturday. The county roads are such that there are few mails from the county, and the railroad trains are running so regularly that only a few mails have been brought in this way.

Even the steamboat men, who were complaining of low water only a short time ago, are beginning to complain because the rivers are getting so high that many of the landings are under water and they cannot load.

Manager A. L. Joynes, of the Cumberland Telephone company, reports that the damage to his lines caused by the heavy rains, was slight and that all defects have been remedied. There were a few long distance wires broken and grounded but the linemen worked hard and got the wires in trim again within a day's time.

HEAD INJURED

SERIOUS CONDITION OF AN ILLINOIS CENTRAL SECTION HAND

F. Holloway, of Princeton, was brought to the city last night and placed in the railroad hospital for treatment for lumbago.

Holloway is a section man in the employ of the I. C. and on the 2d of the month fell off a hand car and was injured about the head. The wound healed but it seems that his brain has been impaired as he is wild and is so violent at times that he has to be handcuffed and tied down.

A LULL IN HOSTILITIES.

Venezuela Asks For Arbitration--Guns Silenced In Last Engagement.

NO EFFORT TO ARBITRATE.

London, Dec. 16—Replying to a question in the house of commons today, Under Foreign Secretary Osborne said that no attempt had been made by Great Britain to refer the dispute with Venezuela to arbitration.

GUNS SOON SILENCED.

Puerto Cabello, Dec. 16—Following the bombardment of Fort Solana and the Castle Libertador, which lasted forty-five minutes, British marines from the cruiser Charybdis landed and took possession of the castle. The fortress was almost demolished, and the commander of Castle Libertador has been taken prisoner.

At 7 o'clock the Charybdis and the Vineta arrived here, searching for Venezuelan gunboats. The two cruisers sent their boats into the inner port, but finding no gunboats, the boats returned. The captain of the British merchant steamer Topaz, which was seized by the mob here last Wednesday, then visited the British commander on board the Charybdis and lodged a protest against the violation of his ship. The British captain returned an hour later with a detachment of fifty marines, who took charge of the Topaz.

The British commander then sent a message to the authorities at Puerto Cabello demanding immediate satisfaction for the action of the mob in having hauled down the British flag from the Topaz, saying that if this satisfaction was not forthcoming in two hours, at 5 o'clock, the fortress and the custom house would be bombarded. On receipt of this demand the authorities sent a message to President Castro asking for instructions.

A committee of merchants of Puerto Cabello then approached the American consul here, petitioning him to intervene. The consul accepted this mission and visited the cruiser, but he could obtain no alteration in the decision of the allies.

At 4:45 o'clock a reply was received from President Castro, who authorized the chief official here to give the British commander ample satisfaction. Before this answer could be communicated to the American consul the hour stipulated for its receipt had arrived; the cruisers immediately opened fire on the fortress.

The fire was returned from Fort Solana and Castle Libertador, but the Venezuelan guns were soon silenced. While the firing continued there was intense excitement in this port. Every house in town was closed.

Venezuelan government officials claim that two minutes before the firing commenced President Castro's message containing the satisfaction demanded was dispatched to the Charybdis.

OTHER NATIONS AROUSED.

New York, Dec. 16—A cable to the Herald from Caracas says:

"That Argentine and Chili may declare themselves in sympathy with Venezuela and even become her active allies in the pending crisis is a contingency that appears more than possible in the light of today's developments. The Herald correspondent has learned on reliable authority that the government of Argentina, in a dispatch from Buenos Ayres, has instructed its consular representative to report to Buenos Ayres as early as possible what appears to be the attitude of the United States, and what view that government is likely to take of its obligations under the Monroe Doctrine in the face of the aggressive action of Great Britain and Germany."

HOSTILITIES TEMPO.

RARELY OVER.

London, Dec. 16—An expression of a desire for a peaceful settlement of the difficulties has been received from the Venezuelan government.

The under foreign secretary, Lord Cranborne, denied, in the house of commons, that the British commander was responsible for the sinking of the Venezuelan ships.

The Associated Press has reason to believe that orders will or have been sent to the British commander in Venezuela waters to take no further aggressive action at present, pending a decision being arrived at on the proposal for arbitration.

WANT INVESTIGATION.

LOUISVILLE WAREHOUSES SAY THEY HAVE NOT VIOLATED LAW.

Frankfort, Dec. 16—Attorney General Pratt this morning received letters from officials of the tobacco warehouse companies being fought by the independent company, which is seeking a foothold in Louisville. They invite the attorney general or his representative to come to Louisville and insist that he make a full investigation of charges preferred against them for any violation of law.

LOST IN THE FLOOD

YOUNG MAN IN MARSHALL COUNTY DROWNED IN SEETHING TORRENT.

Henry Taylor, son of a widow of Almo, down the N., C. and St. L., was drowned yesterday while trying to save some mules. According to the report which reached the city a levee at Clark's river broke and he was swept away and lost. His brother attempted to save him, but failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rehkopf of Shreveport, La., are visiting here.

GRAND JURY REPORTS

Several Indictments Were Returned This Morning.

Quick Work in the Cases of Bitts Owen and Neil Long—Some Cases Dismissed.

OTHER CIRCUIT COURT NEWS

The grand jury made another report this morning returning the following indictments:

One against Bitts Owen, the young man who held up Marsh Atkinson Saturday night and forced him, at the point of a knife, to give him a pocketbook containing 50 cents in silver and a souvenir penny. The warrant for Owens' arrest and the action of the police court were reported to the grand jury yesterday and it made quick work of the matter. The indictment was accompanied by the record of Owen who was indicted on December 24, 1901 for breaking into the Goodman saloon and convicted and sentenced to one year imprisonment in the penitentiary on the 10th of April, 1902. He received a pardon only a week ago through the influence of friends.

One against Neil Long, the young man who is alleged to have broken into a grip belonging to Horace Clements, at the Pryor boarding house, and taking therefrom a diamond ring valued at $30 and a pistol valued at $7. The pistol was sold to Levy, the pawnbroker, but the ring was not recovered. The warrant and the action of the police court were reported to the grand jury yesterday also.

One against B. H. Cobb, of Mayfield, for obtaining $10 in money from Ima Chappel by false pretenses.

One against B. H. Cobb for obtaining $10 in money from Alice Feast by false pretenses. Cobb is from Mayfield and had secured the money by representing himself as the agent of the Globe Book Co., of Chicago.

One against Sardus Hart for obtaining money by false pretenses. He is accused of selling a set of harness, belonging to W. T. McCutcheon to O. J. Coleman for $4, knowing that the harness did not belong to him.

A warrant against Rice Miller for the alleged snuffing of Will Skelton was returned marked "dismissed."

A warrant against Charles Sullivan for the alleged striking of Lawrence Armstrong with an iron bar, was returned marked "dismissed."

A. B. Johnson filed a suit against his wife Lula Johnson asking for a divorce on the grounds of abandonment and habitual drunkenness. They were married in Memphis on the 11th of October, 1899.

In the case of Nancy Miller against Alonzo Miller, a judgment for sale of property was filed.

In the case of L. Thomas, Adm., against John Edwards, a judgment for distribution was filed.

The grand jury has not yet taken up the case against Theo Luttrell for violating rules of the board of health requiring vaccination. The county board of health, however, has not abandoned the idea of contesting the case in circuit court.

After having been on the case about half a day, the jury in the Fred

Edmonds case for grand larceny brought in a verdict for one year's imprisonment in the state penitentiary today shortly before 12 o'clock.

Edmonds came here from Cairo several months ago and was boarding at the same boarding house with a railroad man named Arch Johnson who had a fine $40 watch stolen from under his pillow. He suspected Edmonds and had him arrested. The watch was found on the suspect and he claimed to have purchased it from a negro for 15 cents, all that he had, he explained to Captain Bailey. He claimed he saw a negro pick up the watch from the street, where it had accidentally dropped from Johnson's pocket. His attorneys tried to prove that the watch was not worth $20, the amount necessary to constitute a charge of grand larceny, but the court held that the original value of $40, the amount paid for the article by Johnson, had not been depreciated by usage.

The jury still has the case against John Worley and Will Gordon, colored, charged with horse stealing.

The case against Josie Day, colored, charged with stealing a mule from Tom Davis was on trial at press time. The defendant admitted that he had taken the mule but failed to state what he intended to do with other than merely to drive it. He came here on a colored excursion from Cairo and failed to return, he liked the town so well. When he did start to depart he took a mule and overcoat with him in the way of souvenirs.

The judgment against J. J. Keeny was entered for $40 and costs by Special Judge Oscar Kahn for trespassing on the Hottelger place. The defendant is a railroad contractor. The case was tried several weeks ago and the judgment rendered but not until today was it placed on record.

TRAIN WRECK.

TWO EXPRESS MESSENGERS BELIEVED TO BE KILLED.

Birmingham, Dec. 16—The south bound limited express No. 1 on the Alabama Great Southern railroad, was wrecked near Monroeville, Ala., 60 miles south of here, at 3 a.m. Rail had been removed from near the wreck.

It is known here that two express messengers are missing and are supposed to be dead under the wreck. No passengers are reported killed. The train was en route from Cincinnati to New Orleans.

GIVEN TO GRAND JURY.

HOLLAND CASE TURNED OVER TO IT BY JUSTICE YOUNG.

The case against Sam Holland, charged with setting up a game, was this afternoon turned over to the grand jury by Justice Jesse Young, before whom the warrant was sworn out. As the justice has no final jurisdiction in such cases and the grand jury is in session, he thought it would save trouble to transfer the case, which was done. The defendant is out on bond.

A BIG RAILROAD INJUNCTION

Chicago, Dec. 16—Argument for temporary injunction restraining 14 railroads from cutting rates in violation of the Sherman interstate commerce acts, was begun in the United States circuit court of appeals today, Judge Grosscup, of Chicago, and Judge Phillips, of Kansas City, sitting en banc.

HAVE YOU SUBSCRIBED FOR CHRISTMAS TREE?

Donations for the Christmas tree to be given the poor of the city the day after Christmas by Rev. R. W. Chiles and The Sun continue to come in generously. There remains but eight days more in which to prepare for it and The Sun would again call on those who have not as yet donated to the fund to open up their hearts—and purses—and do so.

This is a work in which all should help. It is charity indeed. Christmas means so much to every one of us, and in planning for its enjoyment we should stop for a few moments and think of those unfortunates who will have no Christmas at all, unless the generous of heart give it to them. So let everyone, man, woman or child, who has not yet subscribed to this fund send in something. No matter what, small or large, it will be appreciated.

To The Sun

I inclose herewith

for the Christmas tree to be given the poor of the city the day following Christmas.

POOL TALKED OF NOW

How Some of the Retail Grocers are Saving Money.

Nothing But Talk Here Thus Far—The Plan Is Successful in Some Places.

SAVES MIDDLEMAN'S PROFITS

There is talk here but thus far nothing definite, of making an attempt to establish in Paducah a mammoth wholesale grocery, or supply house for the benefit of retailers but at present no steps have been taken to do it. The plan is in vogue in some of the larger cities, and has proven profitable for the retail grocers as well as the public.

If the theory is correct, such a concern would result in a large saving to the grocer. The plan is very simple. Retail grocers cannot buy from the factories, owing to the latter's agreement with the wholesalers. They must buy from the wholesaler, while if they could purchase from the factory at wholesale prices, they could save the wholesaler's profits.

The plan, which has been successfully carried out in Cincinnati, is for a number of the large retailers to form a big wholesale concern, with no stockholders outside of themselves. This enables them to buy in large lots, and when they do this, they can furnish it to themselves as retailers, at a slight advance and all the profits made are their own, instead of a portion of going to the wholesaler. In short, it means simply that they go into the wholesale business as an auxiliary to their retail business.

Usually the number of retail grocers in the new concern is from 25 to 50. In Cincinnati it has proven a success and now some of the largest grocers of Louisville have begun arrangements to inaugurate it, and the plan has reached here and been discussed for some time, but no definite steps taken to do anything.

Some of the larger grocers of Cincinnati were among the first to adopt the idea of establishing a central supply house, as such it is. Fifty leading grocers entered into the arrangement and results beyond anticipation followed. Every grocer in the pool secured goods cheaper, it is claimed, and the wholesale establishment had a goodly profit at the end of the year's dealings. The wholesale house will buy direct from the makers of the goods, pay cash and thereby secure a jobber's discount. The retailer, who has had to pay according to the small amount he bought, will secure the same limited supply at the reduced rate. In some cities the plan has been so successful that a second pool has been formed.

WANTED PAY.

THIS ECONOMICAL ROOSTER THOUGHT HE HAD A CINCH ON A CHEAP JOB.

A farmer, evidently inexperienced in possessing gold rings and other valuable articles, walked into a jewelry store a night or two ago and asked the jeweler if he could cut initials in rings. He then produced a large gold ring and explained that he desired to have initials cut in it, and wanted to know how much "to boot" the jeweler would give him for the gold shavings. He thought the jeweler would cut the initials and pay him a price in addition to the work, for the shavings. He was destined to a sad disappointment, however, and had to leave without having the work done.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

TWO SHOTS FIRED AT THE KING OF BELGIUM.

Brussels, Dec. 16—As Leopold, the king of the Belgians, was leaving the royal train at the station at Laken two shots were fired at him, although neither took effect.

It is not known whether the shots were fired by an assassin or by poachers, but in view of the dissatisfaction with the king that exists throughout the kingdom because of his cruel treatment of his daughter, the Princess Stephanie, the shooting is generally believed to have been a deliberate attempt to kill him, and much excitement prevails.

The John S. Hopkins arrived late from Evansville this morning with a good trip.

OFFICERS TRICKED

They Had to Take a Good "Cussing" Before Being Released

How They Sometimes Do Things Over at Metropolis, Macon County.

Over in Metropolis, Ill., it seems, they have some intrepid lawbreakers. The following account of what happened to a couple of officers is told in the Metropolis Journal-Republican:

On Sunday evening while making their rounds City Marshal Flanagan and Night Policemen Pergande heard shooting in the neighborhood of where Daily Crouch lives. They went there not seeing anyone, went to the house and knocked on the door. When opened Pergande stepped in and found Daily Crouch and Dink Royle in the room. He commenced inquiring of them as to the shooting, when they told him to sit down and he told them he preferred to stand.

At this juncture in the proceedings Marshal Flanagan opened the door and walked in. As soon as he was fairly on the inside Crouch and Royle locked the door and covered the officers with their pistols, making them sit down while they poured forth a tirade of all the invectives and profanity they could command. They continue this until they relieved their vocabulary and then ordered the officials to depart.

The boys were too quick for the officers and the latter concluded to play the part of discretion and take their medicine. But such occurrences as this should not be permitted and every effort should be made to break up such lawlessness for all time to come. The law against carrying and discharging deadly weapons cannot be too rigidly enforced for the well being of the city and community.

I tried Dean's Kidney Pills, getting them at DuBois and Co.'s drug store. A FINE CATCH MADE Alleged Safe Blowers in the Toils in Paducah.

They Had the Material Used in Blowing Safes—Chief Collins Is Jubilant.

THEY WILL BE HELD

Chief of Police James Collins is confident that he has two expert safe blowers in the toils. They were arrested last night by Captain Henry Bailey and Officers Harlan, Clark and Woods. On them were found soap, vanilla, cotton and nitro glycerine. They are on the "sagin" genas, apparently, and Chief Collins stated today that he had them under espionage for several days, and was confident that they contemplated a job here last night.

"To tell the truth," he said to a reporter this morning, "I received information that I consider reliable that they were going to crack a safe last night, and as we found we couldn't watch them all the time we took them in."

Chief Collins thinks they are the men who cracked a safe at Confederate, Lyon county, near Eldysville several days ago and got away with some pennies, stamps and money. They were looked up in separate cells, and Chief Collins stated that he expects a Cincinnati man here this evening to identify them. They are doubtless noted crook and safe blowers, and may be valuable catch.

O'Neal claims to be from Louisville and is about 40 years old. The other man claims Memphis as his home and is about 21, a mere boy.

They were arrested on the street. Among the various things found on them were files, skeleton keys, lock picks and complete burglar outfits.

Chief Collins will have a warrant issued against them for having burglar's tools in their possession, or some other offense, in order to hold them. He says he is certain of much against them, but must get the necessary evidence.

He says that there is a regular organization of safe blowers and thieves and that these men doubtless belong to it. He expects some attorney to turn up and defend them when their trial comes off, and says the attorney himself never knows where the money comes from, but the prisoners in such cases are always looked after.

MASS MEETING

Democratic Protest Against the State Primary Ordered.

Demand the Resignation of Committeeman Mott Ayers, of Fulton.

A mass meeting of Democrats was last night held at the city hall to ratify resolutions prepared by the Hendricks crowd who want a state convention instead of a primary. It was a large meeting, considering what political meetings usually are in Paducah and it was out and dried to a far-yeon-well.

Attorney T. L. Orice called the meeting to order and stated its object and former Mayor James M. Lang was elected chairman. Representatives of Democratic papers were elected secretaries.

The resolution committee of five was appointed as follows: One G. Singleton, T. L. Orice, W. A. Wickliffe, F. G. Randolph and J. G. Miller.

The committee retired and upon remaining out a proper length of time returned and reported resolutions that protest against a state primary as ordered by the executive committee, demands the resignation of Committeeman Ayers, and for the Paducah Democratic papers, and compliments Committeemen Meacham.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

HAD TO CANCEL DATE.

The "A Wise Woman" company, which was booked for Paris, Tenn., yesterday, could not make that place because there were no trains running on the N. O. and St. L. in time to put them in there by evening. The company returned last night and left this morning for Hopkinsville.

2½ Tons will heat your home comfortably with a FAVORITE HEATER.

Even if hard coal costs $10 per ton it would be cheaper for you in the Favorite Base Burner than 4¢ coal in other makes. This is a positive fact, and Scott, the stove dealer, will prove it to you or refund your money. It beats using soft coal at any price.

It beats using gas and we all know about using gas in zero weather.

All people have been more or less worried on the fuel subject. The Favorite Base Burner will positively settle your worry in the most satisfactory and economical way.

The Administration Sees the Predicament It Is In at Present.

The Police Ordinance Results In Another Deadlock In the Councilmanic Board.

The council met in regular session last night with all members present except Councilman Brooks.

Mayor Yeiser stated that the floating debt should be looked after as it was getting along pretty close to the time to make a new tax levy. He stated that the floating debt was about $20,000 and suggested that bonds be issued to cover it. The matter was referred to the finance committee. The electric lighting system was reported in bad shape and the mayor wanted this attended to. A report of the night police on the number of lights that were found not burning for the past twelve months was read.

In the southern portion of the city 375 lights were out during the past twelve months, one night 65 being reported out. The matter of looking into the electric lighting system and remedying the defect, wherever it may be, was placed in the hands of the joint light committee.

Official summons and notification of the Gilbert and Crowns against the city were filed and Solicitor Winton instructed to look after the interests of the city in the actions.

Frank Lucas, the revenue agent, wanted to get the assessor's books for the past five years but the council refused to let them go out of the city hall, as they are always open to inspection.

Mayor Yeiser was authorized to advertise for bids for the keeping in repair the city hall clock which has been running badly for several weeks.

A contract with E. C. Terrell for street improvements was referred to the street committee. He wanted a change made in the reading relative to the payment of interest.

A prayer from E. C. Terrell who made improvements on property near the Paducah Mill and Elevator Co. property on lower Court and First street, asking that he be paid $407 was presented but nothing was done. Terrell sued the property owners but the court decided against him. He then sought to get the money out of the city but failed. He threatens to take an appeal and have the court of appeals pass on the question. He made improvements that were not embodied in the contract with the city, and the solicitor last night reported that it was the contractor's fault, and he could collect nothing from the city.

A notice was received from Messrs. Bernheim Bros., of Louisville, that they shipped here 1200 bushels of coal to be distributed among the deserving poor of the city during the winter, widows and orphans to be given the preference. The clerk was ordered to write an acknowledgment of the receipt of the coal and thanks for the council and city.

A report of the joint finance committee was read. The total amount of bills against the city was $10,057.34 which were allowed. A note to the City National bank for $7,000 was ordered renewed. A coupon on an over-the-river bond amounting to $360 was ordered taken up. The prayer from W. H. Parham and Co. for payment of $44.25 for bedding alleged to have been burned from the Lo Bloom hotel by the health authorities three years ago when a case of small pox was discovered in the hotel, was referred to the sanitary committee.

A motion to have the Paducah Banking Co. carry $680 to over-the-river railroad coupons until the first of the year, was adopted. There are 27 coupons in all to be taken in. J. T. Etter was allowed $24.35 for a cow that the marshal had sold without taking exactly the usual steps in advertising. It was moved and adopted that the city take action against the marshal who will be held responsible for the debt as he was in fault in failing to comply with the law in regard to selling the cow after she had been duly arrested and kept for three days.

The bill of $505 of the Democrat Publishing Co. was compromised on three cents per line. The company wanted 5 cents per line but after failing to get it, decided on a three cent compromise.

A new ordinance for the improvement of the alley running between Tenth and Eleventh and Court and Washington streets was ordered drafted.

An ordinance repealing an ordinance regulating the issuance of liquor license one mile outside the city limits was given second reading. The city has enough to do to look after those inside the city.

An ordinance prescribing rules for the paving of lots in Oak Grove was given second reading. It provides that all persons curbing with wood or any other substance not marble, as specified, will be subject to a fine of not less than $5 or more than $30 and that every day the curbing is left in violation of the ordinance, that it shall be considered a separate and distinct offense.

An ordinance fixing the salary of the city weigher at $720 per annum with a $500 bond was given first reading.

The ordinance fixing the salary of the sexton of Oak Grove at $810 was given first reading. There was some little debate as to the salary this official should get. Councilman Hannan wanted it at $900 and Councilman Hummel at $840, while Councilman Taylor wanted it at $1,000. The ordinance passed by the aldermen fixed it at $720.

The ordinance placing the appointment of the patrol wagon driver in the hands of the fire and police commissioners was given first reading.

The police ordinance came up again and there was another deadlock.

The council did not like this and there was much debate and all resulting in the defeat of all substitutions as to the number to be employed. Hummel wanted 26, Woolfolk 20, Potter 26 and Fowler 20. Councilman Hummel stated that as the mayor and police commissioners recommended that this city employ 26 policemen, he thought that should be done and the wishes of the chief executive should be respected. Councilman Fowler did not think so much of Councilman Hummel's speech and said before he would let himself be lead about by a ring in the nose he would resign his position.

The report of James Collins, chief of police, for the past month was received, filed and concurred in.

A prayer from Loeb and Bloom, who claim to have been assessed for 19 acres of land in the county for the years 1899, 1900, 1901 and 1902, which the property was not theirs, was read and referred to the relief committee of both boards.

A resolution to refund the Paducah and St. Louis railroad bonds at a rate not to exceed 4 per cent interest by May 1, 1903, was adopted. The rate now paid is 4 1/2 per cent.

The report of the joint street committee recommending that legal proceedings be begun to force Clerk Patterson to repair the sidewalks and street on Broadway was concurred in.

Several deeds to property in Oak Grove were ratified.

A petition from residents on West Harrison near Fountain avenue, was read. They want the water mains extended and agree to take water for the requisite time. The water company will be notified to extend the mains.

President Reed then made a full report on all the ordinances he had signed, including the safe ordinance. This has to be done on the rulings of the charter and he had neglected reporting the same to the council.

Engineer Washington presented the dedication of a street and alley from Mrs. William Fisher in what is known as the Fisher addition, near Bockmon and Elizabeth streets and the dedication was accepted and the alley and street ordered recorded with the plat. The street will be named Fisher avenue.

City Engineer Washington reported that there were two alleys on the Highlands and Bockmon streets that the property owners had fenced in and wanted to know what to do about them. He was ordered to notify the residents and property owners to remove the fences and open the alleys as they were public alleys and the city would have to pay for the inter-sections in street improvements that have been made. The report of the work done by Contractor E. C. Terrell on these streets, was then presented and received.

A dedication of an alley from Chris Libel, the alley located between Ninth and Tenth, Caldwell and Highlands streets, was received and the alley ordered recorded as the property of the city.

It was ordered that the residents and property owners on the west side of Bockmon street on Ninth remove their fences back 11 feet, the distance they have encroached on the city street. This has been going on steadily for the past several years.

Improvements near the Seacoast Mineral Co's plant in the way of lights and pavements were asked for by the company. The matter was referred to a committee to confer with the company representatives.

Councilman Hummel stated that he thought improvements should be made to the seven blocks running with Jefferson and Court, Third and Fourth streets by the way of laying surface draining sewers and other needed improvements. He estimates that it will cost not over $13,000, and asked that the engineer be instructed to draw a profile and make estimates on the cost of the improvements. Councilman Fowler was opposed to this as he said it would be a still greater burden on the taxpayers and he did not feel like heaping any more taxes on their heads. He said that Hummel was trying to pave his way to the next council and for his part he did not want to be a member of that body and if the present councilmen keep up the gait they are going now that none will be there one year hence.

It was ordered that the small brick building on South Fourth street, opposite the city hall, owned by Mr. C. Q. C. Leigh, torn down. This building was over one year ago ordered torn down, after it had been duly condemned, but nothing was ever done about it.

A communication from 69 merchants and others who ask that the an-experienced plumber was received and referred to the mayor who has the appointment of this officer. The petition asked that the salary be fixed at $75 per month.

A plat of lots in Oak Grove was presented by Engineer Washington and referred to the cemetery committee which will name the streets in the plat.

On motion the council adjourned.

$50,000,000 READY IN NEW YORK FOR ANY EMERGENCY

New York, Dec. 16.—A number of banks of this city and J. P. Morgan and Co. have formed a pool of $50,000,000 to lend in the money market in the event of actual emergency.

The pool was organized by George F. Baker, president of the First National bank. That bank, J. P. Morgan and Co., the National City bank, the First National bank, the Western National bank have pledged themselves for $5,000,000 each.

The Corn Exchange bank agrees to subscribe $2,500,000 and the Chemical National bank and the bank of New York $1,000,000 each. This measure is really a prophylactic one, and it is not apprehended that any of the money will be actually needed. It will be put out, however, should the occasion arise.

Alex Williams, colored, who was struck in the lockup yesterday morning by Sam Coohran, another prisoner, is not yet out of danger. His nose, which was broken, is terribly swollen, and he was unconscious for several hours.

Coohran claims that he struck Williams because the latter was "coming on him." This is not believed, however, as Williams was too drunk even to walk.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Why should you buy a piano? Because it is one of the most ornamental pieces of furniture you can have in your house.

Why should you buy it Christmas? Because it is one of the most valuable and useful presents you can make your wife, child, sister, brother or any other relative or friend.

Where should you buy it? At home if you can do better than elsewhere.

Spend your money with those who spend theirs with you. Those who are here to stay, and make their guarantee good.

From whom should you buy?

From D. H. Baldwin and Co., since they make and sell their goods direct to the trade, thereby saving you a dealer's profit or an agent's commission.

Their pianos are not an experiment, as their reputation is established. They are not being sold to introduce them and have you take any risk of their quality, but are sold on their merits.

Having taken the highest award at the Paris exposition, a distinction never obtained by any American factory before, we feel safe in saying they are the best.

We have a house full of them and will be glad to show and sell them to you this week, at prices which defy competition, either for cash or easy payments. Old instruments taken in exchange.

THE FATAL SPOT

In everybody's foot there is one weak spot—The toes are strong, the ball of the foot is firm, the heel is unyielding, but the ARCH of the foot under the instep is a weak place. Being arched it is wholly unsupported—being weak it is the one place that gets tired, but all the same its the muscle by which you walk, its the one part of the foot that needs to be helped.

The Dorothy Dodd Shoe

supports the arch of the foot by a special curved shank between the inner and outer soles, this shank exactly follows the arch of the foot. It holds its shape and supports the foot.

THE WEATHER.

HANDWRITING IS PLAIN.

Now that the Democrats of Paducah, Ky., have spoken, of course there will be another state executive committee meeting and the state primary will be called off. A few years ago many of those present at last night's mass meeting were "massing" somewhere else to beat the regular nominee of the Democratic party, and now that they have condescended to come back and manage the party again, the state executive committee will display an inextinguishable lack of foresight and judgment if it refuses to rescind its action and call whatever these pure, unadorned Democrats of Paducah want. Last night on the resolution committee there were several of those who in the past have shown what dire things they will do if the party is not run to suit them, and this time the state committee, all candidates for office and every other loyal Democrat had better take immediate steps to do what they want. District Committeeman Ayers of Fulton, who had the audacity to favor a primary when some of the Democrats of Paducah wanted a convention, should immediately resign for such a wanton display of temerity. He should never oppose what the Democrats of Paducah want, and their demand to resign must be complied with at once or there may be a bolt. There are some first class bolters in this crowd here, and don't you forget it. We give these tips as friendly advice to the Democrats and to Committeeman Ayers. We are disinterested, and being Johnny-on-the-spot, are in a good position to anticipate the awful results if that primary is not called off at once.

The city administration, in asking for a bond issue to cover a portion of the city's indebtedness, does not contemplate a reduction of the tax rate, from all appearances, but intends to make the rate as large as before and thus raise more money to waste. The people have been helpless witnesses to the squandering of about $150,000, more or less, during the present year, for which there is absolutely nothing to show, and in addition to this, it is suggested that bonds be saddled onto them. If the administration wants to serve the taxpayers it should make some effort to economize instead of trying to cover up its extravagance by a bond issue that will only give them more of the people's money to waste. If the people must pay the interest on bonds let it be for some public improvement that may be appreciated and enjoyed by them, not for covering a waste of public money by officials who ought to have known better.

The Republican prospects in the state brighten every day as the dissension in the Democratic ranks increases. It is presumed that most of the Democrats, if not all of them in this district, are for Hon. John K. Hendrick for governor, and many of them in other parts of the state may be. He is up against the machine, however, and is going to stay up against it, the state committee knew when it ordered a primary that Mr. Hendrick and his followers did not want one, and would raise a vigorous protest if one were ordered. Yet they ordered one just the same, and were evidently not ignorant of results, and doubtless have not failed to provide against any contingency. Beckham will probably be declared eligible, the primary will be held and he will win. Then the soreheads will knife him in the wind-up and the Republicans will have a walk-over.

The damage to the county roads is so great that many thousands of dollars will doubtless be required to repair them in this section of the state. This will be true as long as the custom prevails of spending the people's money in summer time for road work that is washed away with the first hard rains of winter.

The claim that it costs more to live now than before the great wave of prosperity struck us is not borne out by published facts. Many of the big city dailies, among them such Democratic papers as the Courier-Journal, are publishing tables showing that it costs on an average less to live this year than last.

Now that Venezuela has been given her spanking, the indications are for early peace, and when the soreness disappears our neighbor will probably be willing to be good.

The people of Paducah could boast today of a river that came up the levee six feet in twenty-four hours, something that does not happen often in a lifetime.

BORN IN OLD KENTUCKY.

JUDGE HENRY DIES IN KANSAS CITY AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Kansas City, Dec. 16.—Judge John W. Henry, who died at his home here last Friday, was a Kentuckian of the old school. He had been seriously ill for two months and died from a general breaking down, incident to old age. Of his own boyhood and young manhood Judge Henry wrote recently for publication.

"I was born in the state of Kentucky 78 years ago, and the first 20 years of my life were passed in that grand old commonwealth in the village of Cynthiana, on the north bank of the Licking river. I was not 20 years old when, having graduated at the Transylvania Law School at Lexington, Ky., I came to Missouri to push my fortune in this then new state. She was only a few years older than I—a frontier state. The magnificent empire acquired from Mexico was then almost unexplored. No one dreamed of the mineral wealth and agricultural resources of that splendid territory."

The young lawyer settled at Booneville, but stayed there only a short time. He returned to Kentucky and opened a law office at Mills Point, but soon returned to Missouri.

Theatrical Notes.

The rendition of "El Capitan," which will be presented at The Kentucky Wednesday night, December 17, is quite the musical event of the season for several reasons. One of these being that the opera, which has been given in more than 135 theaters, has not yet been heard in this city and will not be until Grau's company appears here, as this company controls the right of presenting it in this country. The manner in which the opera will be presented will no doubt be unique to Paducah theatergoers, it being presented in the same grand style as at the Broadway theater in New York. With all its gorgeous costumes, magnificent scenic effects, its large chorus, select cast, Grau will also present his grand scenic production of "The Wizard of the Nile" at the matinee. This is the only company in America producing the above successes.

One of the events of the season is the coming of "The Wizard of the Nile" at The Kentucky Wednesday.

December 17. This operatic burlesque had a run of over a year at the Casino in New York, where it was received nightly by tremendous crowds and achieved one of the greatest successes ever known in this country. The "Wizard" is full of pretty airs and catchy music. Some of the beautiful songs sung in this opera are such as "Dreamland Starlight," and the greatest of them all, "That's One Thing a Wizard Can Do." Grau will present two big successes here, Wednesday matinee "The Wizard of the Nile" and "El Capitan" at night.

The Illinois Central on December 31, according to reports, will put on a regular passenger train between Reevesville and Golconda, to make a morning and afternoon trip and connect with the trains to and from Paducah.

Burlington
Route

The Man In Charge

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Burlington sells homeseekers' tickets to the territory East of the Rockies at one fare plus $2.00 round trip. On the same dates one-way settlers' tickets to the same region are sold at a trifle more than half rates.

The Burlington best reaches the corn belt, the wheat belt, the livestock areas of the Louisiana Purchase, and, in connection with the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads, forms direct routes to the upper Northwest country through St. Louis or Chicago.

The generous harvest of 1902 in the West is a strong appeal to homeseekers and investors to see the rewards now being gained by farmers, stock raisers and fruit growers, not only in the regions of natural rainfall, but in the spreading irrigated districts of Eastern Colorado, Northwest Nebraska, the North Platte and Big Horn Valleys of Wyoming, also of Idaho, Montana and Washington.

Send for any of our special land publications, all free—"Nebraska," "Black Hills Miniature," "North Platte Valley," "Big Horn Basin," "West Nebraska Grazing Country," "The Corn Belt," also of Minnesota, the Dakotas, or the Northwest.

Observations taken at 7 a.m. River 24 ft on the gauge, a rise of 6.2 in last 24 hours. Wind west, a good breeze. Weather clear and colder. Rainfall in last 24 hours 0.73 inches. Temperature 30. Pel, Observer.

"You can just tell the people that they have seen something today that they have never seen before, and that they will never see again, in all probabilities," Captain Fowler Joe remarked this morning as he puffed away contentedly at a long black Virginia stogie. "I have been on the banks of the Ohio river here for the past 30 years and have never in all my experience seen the river rise six feet in 24 hours before. It has never before done it—not since the Indians left here, and will never do it again, if I am any judge of the weather."

The rise reported from all the rivers has been large, especially at Cincinnati, where the water has risen 12 feet in the past twelve hours. At Johnsonville the rise has been heavy and also at Nashville where a rise of 13.6 is reported. The stages above will show what the heavy rains have done. The river men are all jubilant over the conditions and the tie trade will be especially good from now on.

The river has not reached a stage where ties stacked along the banks of the rivers will be in danger of floating away. Not one of the local tie companies report tie losses, but the boats are getting the ties away as soon as possible to prevent any possible danger from this source.

The Charleston is still due out of the Tennessee river. She is scheduled to leave tonight for Tennessee river but will be late and will not leave before tomorrow if she arrives today.

The Clifton will pass out of the Tennessee river this afternoon at 4 o'clock en route to St. Louis with a good trip.

The Inverness arrived out of Cumberland river this morning with ties.

The Russell Lord cleared for the Tennessee river yesterday.

The Butterfield left last night for Clarksville, one day late.

The Pannonia went into the Ohio this morning after ties.

The Dick Fowler had a good trip to Cairo this morning.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Tonight the initial entertainment feature, for securing the necessary funds to enlarge the Y. M. C. A. library, will be given.

The Bostlema string quartet will give a recital with Mr. Carl Cramer, the basso. Too much cannot be said of this family of musicians as it has established an excellent reputation wherever it has appeared. This will be the first of the feature entertainments, and it is hoped that it will prove a financial success. There will be other features to follow this later in the winter.

Thursday night the debating club will meet and the subject of the debate is "Resolved that the reading public devotes too much time to newspapers." There are several of the best speakers and debaters in the club down on the program for a part and the debate will be one of much interest.

Last night the mandolin and guitar club of the association met with a lot of new music to rehearse and had an excellent rehearsal. The club had not been meeting of late and as interest has revived it is thought the membership will increase and this be made one of the best features of the association.

COUGHING SPELL

CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

ONE LUCID INTERVAL.

(Paducah News-Democrat.)

An inoffensive, old, drunken negro was killed a few nights ago at Murray by a town officer. A coroner's jury promptly acquitted the slayer, but public opinion in the town inclines strongly to the belief that the white man had no provocation for shooting the old darkey. An officer who cannot keep his temper in his hand and his gun in his pocket except when it is absolutely needed has no business being an officer. And if the Murray marshal killed the negro, except in self-defense, he should be punished for it. The News-Democrat believes in a white man's South, but not in the unprovoked mistreatment of negro citizens.

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

Forgotten by the crowd, the clown had taken refuge in the embrasure of a window, where he kept his eyes upon a couple not far off. It was Madeleine, dancing with a splendidly dressed do-
-the Marquis de Clamernan. He appeared to be radiant, rejuvenated and to all appearances triumphant. At the end of a quadrille he leaned over his partner and whispered compliments with the most unbounded admiration.
She seemed to listen, if not with pleasure, at least without repugnance. A smiling and now shrugging her shoulders.

"Evidently," muttered the clown,
"this noble scoundrel is paying court to the banker's niece. So I was right yesterday. But how can Mlle. Madeleine listen so graciously to his flattery?
Fortunately Prosper is not here."

He was interrupted by a distinguished looking elderly man in a Venetian mantle, who said to him:

"You know, M. Verduret"—half seriously, half humbly—"what you promised me?"

The clown bowed respectfully, but with not the slightest shade of humility.

"I remember," he replied.

"But do not be imprudent, I beg of you."

"Monsieur the count need not be uneasy; he has my promise."

"Very good. I know what that means."

The count walked off, but during his short colloquy the quadrille had ended, and the clown lost sight of M. de Clamernan and Madeleine.

"I shall find them near Mme. Fau-vel," thought he.

And he at once started to search
among the throng for the banker's wife.

Incommoded by the stifling heat,
Mme. Fauvel had sought a little fresh air in the grand picture gallery, which, thanks to the tallman called gold, had been transformed into a fairy-like garden, filled with orange trees, japonicas, laurel and many rare plants. The clown saw her seated near a grove not far from the cardroom. Upon her left stood Raoul de Lagora, dressed in costume of Henry III.

"I must confess," muttered the clown from his post of observation, "that the young scamp is very handsome."

Madeline was very sad. She had plucked a camellia from a plant near by and was mechanically pulling it to pieces as she sat with her eyes downcast. Raoul and Mme. Fauvel were sitting together in conversation. Their faces were composed, but the gestures of one and the trembling of the other betrayed preoccupation and a serious discussion. In the cardroom sat the dodo, M. de Clamernan, so placed as to have full view of Mme. Fauvel and Madeleine, although himself concealed.

"It is the continuation of yesterday's scene," thought the clown. "If I could only get behind those camellias, I might hear what they are saying."

He pushed his way through the crowd, but as he reached the desired spot Madeleine arose and took the arm of a bejeweled Peralan. At the same moment Raoul went into the cardroom and whispered a few words to M. de Clamernan.

"There they are," muttered the clown. "The two rascals certainly hold these poor women in their toils.
What can be the secret of their power?"

His attention was attracted by a commotion in the picture gallery. There was to be a wonderful minstrel danced in the ballroom. The Countess de Commarin and the Princess Korasoff, with her superb emeralds, which were reported to be the finest in the world, had both arrived. In an instant the gallery became almost deserted. Only a few forlorn looking people remained.

The clown thought it a favorable opportunity for carrying out his project.
He abruptly left his position, flashing his switch and beating his banner, and, crossing the gallery, seated himself in a chair between Mme. Fauvel and the door. As soon as the people had collected in a circle around him he struck a comical attitude, standing up with his body twisted sideways and his hat on one ear. With much humor and volubility he made the following remarks:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this very morning I obtained a license from the authorities of this town. And what for? Why, gentlemen, for the purpose of exhibiting to you a spectacle which has already won the admiration of the four quarters of the globe. Inside of this booth, ladies, is about to commence the representation of a most remarkable drama, acted for the first time in Peking and translated by our most celebrated authors. Gentlemen, you can take your seats. The lamps are lighted, and the actors are changing their dress."

Here he stopped speaking and intimated to perfection the feats which mountain plays upon horns and kettledrums.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," he resumed, "you wish to know what I am doing outside of the piece is to be performed under the tent. The fact is, gentlemen, that I wish to give you a foretaste of the entertainment which you may enjoy by paying the small sum of 10 cents. You see this superb picture? Very well. It represents eight of the most thrilling scenes in the drama. Ah, I see you begin to shudder. And yet this splendid picture gives you no more idea of the acting than a drop of water gives an idea of the sea or a ray of light of the sun."

"Do you know this clown?" asked an enormous Turk of a melancholy French.
"No, but he can imitate a trumpet splendidly."

"Oh, very well indeed! But what is he driving at?"

The clown was endeavoring to attract the attention of Mme. Fauvel, who since Raoul and Madeleine had left her had abandoned herself to a mournful reverie. He succeeded. The showman's shrill voice brought the banker's wife back to a sense of reality. She started and looked quickly about her, as if suddenly awakened from a troubled dream. Then she noticed the clown.

"Now, ladies, we are in China. The first picture on my canvas, here to the left"—he pointed to the top dais—"represents the celebrated Mandarin Li Po in the bosom of his family. This pretty woman leaning over him is his wife, and these children playing on the carpet are the fruits of a happy marriage.
Do you not inhale the odor of happiness emanating from this speaking picture, gentlemen? Mme. Li Po is the most virtuous of women, adoring her husband and idolizing her children.
Being virtuous, she is happy, for the wise Confucius says, 'Virtue is better than vice.'"

Mme. Fauvel became interested. She left her seat and approached nearer to the clown.

"Do you see anything on the banner like what he is describing?" asked the melancholy French of his neighbor.

"No. Do you?"

The fact is that the dauba of paint on the canvas represented one thing as well as another, and the clown could call them whatever he pleased.

"Picture No. 2!" he cried after a rolling of drums. "This old lady seated before a mirror tearing out her hair, especially the gray ones—do you recognize her? No, you do not. She is the fair mandarin of the first picture.
I see tears in your eyes, ladies and gentlemen. Ah, you have cause to weep, for she is no longer virtuous, and her happiness has departed with her virtue. Alas, it is a sad story!
One fatal day she met on the streets of Peking a young ruffian, scoundrel, but beautiful as an angel, and she loved him—the unfortunate woman loved him!"

During this tirade he had turned about till he faced the banker's wife, whose countenance he closely watched while he was speaking.

"You are surprised, gentlemen," he continued. "I am not. The heart never grows old, and the most vigorous wallflowers flourish on old ruins. This unhappy woman is nearly fifty years old—and in love with a youth! Hence this heartrending scene, which should serve as a warning to us all!"

"Really," grumbled a cook dressed in white satin, who had passed the evening in carrying around menus which no one read, "I thought he was going to amuse us."

"But," continued the clown, "you must go inside of the booth to witness the effects of the mandarin's folly. At times a ray of reason penetrates
her diseased brain, and then the sight of her anguish would soften the most unpitying. Enter, and for the small sum of 10 cents you shall hear sobs such as the Odeon never echoed in its halcyon days. The unhappy woman realizes the absurdity and inanity of her illud passion. She confesses to herself that she is madly pursuing a phantom. She knows but too well that he is in the vigor and beauty of youth cannot love a faded old woman like herself, who vainly makes pitiable efforts to retain the last remnant of her once enchaining beauty. She feels that the sweet words he once whispered in her charmed ear were false. She knows that the day is near when she will be left alone, with nothing save his mantle in her hand."

As the clown addressed this voluble
description to the crowd before him he narrowly watched the countenance of the banker's wife. But nothing he had said seemed to affect her. She leaned back in her armchair perfectly calm and occasionally smiled.

"Can I be on the wrong track?" muttered the clown uneasily.

M. de Clamernan joined the circle.

Old Frocks for New.
Dress designing is becoming quite an intellectual pursuit. I heard the other day that one of the great Parisian dress designers had been traveling in the East to get fresh inspiration, while it is well known that the picture galleries of Paris are haunted by the model-making fraternity, and old books with prints and plates of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth century are quite at a premium in the old bookshops and the bookstalls of Paris.—Gentleman.
